PRESIDENT'S PAGE . . . . Charles V. Kappen

Mrs. Dorothy Beaulieu, our libraian, in her report at the Disneyland convention, stated that in addition to many unbound monographs, catalogs and price lists, and other numismatic materials, the CSNA library has on its shelves more than 600 bound volumes.

While the library is building, many fine books are yet to be acquired. Even so, her report would indicate that CSNA members are making good use of it. Maximum use is not expected until some time after a permanent museum - library is established.

In the meantime, the Executive Board, as well as the librarian, would like to know if the books being purchased are the ones the members would prefer to have in their library. It is realized that maximum usage will come about only when the books the members want to read are on the shelves.

The Board is not interested merely in buying so many books at so many dollars, even when purchased at bargain prices. It is interested in obtaining those books which will cover the many fields of numismatics and it is interested in obtaining those books which will be used extensively by the members.

A library catalog will be printed some time during the coming year. Until it is published, many members will not know what books presently are in the library and may feel that they should not participate in the project their CSNA president is going to ask them to take part in — that of suggesting to him titles of books which they wish CSNA to buy. If the books suggested already are in the library, nothing is lost. If they are not, an attempt will be made to purchase them (within the amount allotted for library purchases by the Board, of course.)

If you are a collector of dollars and Bolender's book is not presently on the shelves, you probably will ask that we buy it. If you are a collector of Idaho tokens, you will want to recommend that we purchase a copy of Frank R. Schell's Idaho Merchants' Tokens. Whatever your interest, let us know. Only in that way may you be assured of getting into the library the books of interest to you.

Please take the time, then, to let us know what books you would like to see us purchase. Please do so right away. If you do, perhaps the books will be purchased in time to be included in the upcoming library catalog.

Vol. 22 WINTER, 1968 No. 1

As a result of the 1963 Act passed by Congress, there are no more silver certificates being printed. All one dollar bills are now Federal Reserve notes.

German nickel coins issued between 1871 and 1932 contained 25 percent nickel and 75 percent copper.

The Stuiver of the Netherlands

By W. DeVROOM, Newborough, Vic., Australia, CSNA - 1562

In the Netherlands the stuiver (stiver) or 5-cent piece has always enjoyed a peculiar popularity, which is perhaps best compared with that of the U.S. nickel and the English 3-penny piece.

Its history is a long and varied one, and goes back to the year 1454 when the name stuiver was first introduced to denote a double-groat piece.

That part of the Netherlands, where the name stuiver was first used, was the County of Holland under Philip I, who ruled from 1433 to 1467. The first stuiver or double-groat was also called "four lander", because the coin was struck for circulation in four lands, namely: Holland, Brabant, Flanders and Hainault.

On the obverse this silver four lander shows the Bourgundian coat of arms, which center section is covered by a small shield. This small shield shows the coat of arms of the district for which the coin was minted. Around the Bourgundian coat of arms in full circle: PHS. DEI. GRA. DUX. BURG. COM. HOL. Z., or translated: Philippus by the Grace of God Duke of Bourgundy, Count of Holland and Zeeland.

At that time, the minting of the Zeeland coins was the responsibility of the County of Holland. Only in 1580 Zeeland established its own mint at Uiddelburg, despite the protests from Holland.

These fourlanders show the Bourgundian long cross on the reverse, around which appears: MONETA NOVA COM. HOL. Z., or translated: New Coin of the Counties of Holland and Zeeland.

In the years to follow the four-lander changed its design and also its name under Countess Maria (1477-1482). Maria's coins went by the name of fire-irons, but in fact both the fourlander and the fire-iron were stuiver pieces. From around the year 1500 no mention is made any more of groats and double-groats, and the name stuiver found itself a place in the monetary system of the Netherlands, a place it still holds to date.

The main difference is, however, that since its inception until the introduction of the decimal system in 1816, the stuiver had a value of eight doits, whereas after 1816 the value was expressed in cents, one stuiver being equal to five cents.

From approximately 1579 to 1795, during the days of the Republic of the United Netherlands, the stuiver was of a more standard type throughout the Netherlands, although its size was considerably reduced in comparison with that of its forerunner, the double-groat.

The best known type of this period is the stuiver which shows the seven arrows (one for each of the states) on the reverse, with 1 - S to the left and right, and with the obverse showing the name of the state of issue in Latin, together with date and mint mark.

The emblem of the seven arrows was first introduced by the State of Zeeland in 1614 and in later years by other states of the republic. The seven arrows replaced the lion of the States General on the coin, which was only introduced as recently as 1614, but in many mint places of the republic stuivers with the lion still continued to be minted for a long time. As late as the middle of the 18th century this type of stuiver was still found in circulation.

Because of the broom-like appearance of the bunch of arrows on the reverse, the stuiver of the republic has also been widely known as the "broom-stuiver", a name which has maintained itself throughout the long period of its circulation.

For many years the stuiver has been the 1/20th part of a guilder, a relationship which exists even today. As early as 1520, Charles V ordered the minting of a guilder (gold Carolus) which would have a value of 20 stuivers. However, this Carolus guilder rose in value over the next century and reached a value of two guilders in 1618, after which no mention is made any more of the golden Carolus guilders. The substantial sending of silver from Mexico and Peru was an inducement to mint larger silver coins in the Netherlands, and as a result the law of 22 February 1542 gave birth to the silver Carolus, which became the first silver guilder and was valued at 20 stuivers, following thereby the original valuation of its golden predecessor. Since then the relationship between guilder and stuiver has remained stable, i.e.: 20 stuivers to the guilder, irrespective of the fluctuations of the guilder in relation to higher denomination coins.

During the period of the Batavian Republic, 1795-1806, no single stuiver pieces were minted, but only multiples such as the double stuiver. The law of 1816 re-designed the stuiver and an Order in Council of 2 February 1846 put all older type stuivers out of circulation.

The re-designed stuiver, which fell under the resolution of 1846 and which first replaced the old broom-stuiver, was minted only during the reign of Willem I. The minting took place in Utrecht and Brussels, and both types carry a distinctive mintmark and mintmaster's mark on the reverse, left and right under the crowned shield, whereas the value 5 - C is placed in two parts to the left and right of the shield. On the Utrecht minted pieces the mintmaster's mark consisted of a torch, and on the Brussel's minted pieces of a palm branch. The marks of the mintplaces were a staff of Mercury for Utrecht and the letter B for Brussels.

The obverse of the coin shows a crowned W with the date in two parts, to the left and right of it. It was the first stuiver valued at 5 cents instead of 8 doits, thereby making the guilder 100 cents, and so establishing the decimal system in the Netherlands.

The last year in which this type of stuiver was minted was 1828. The fineness was then .568, which was not so very different from that of the previous stuivers.

During the reign of Willem II, 1840-1849, a radical change took place in Dutch coinage and as a result the stuiver also was involved to a large extent. This change which took place in 1846 saw the end of the circulation of the older type stuiver and approximately two million pieces were handed in, mostly broom-stuivers. In 1849 the change-over to the new type was completed.

Of the new type stuiver only 100 were struck in 1849, however all bear the date 1848. Reason for this is that the dies for this coin were not completed until after the death of Willem II, and the minting only took place as a means of testing the dies. The diameter was again reduced, this time to 12½ mm. However, the fineness was increased to .640. The design largely follows that of the higher denomination silver coins.

The obverse shows the head of the king facing left, around which Willem II Koning der Ned. G.H.V.L. appears. The reverse shows in three lines 5 cent and the date surrounded by two oak branches tied together. The letters G.H.V.L. on the obverse perhaps need some explanation. They stand for: Groat Hertog of Luxemburg, translated Grand Duke of Luxemburg. The above title was abandoned after the death of Willem III in 1890, as only male rulers of the Netherlands were Grand Dukes of Luxemburg. H's daughter, Wilhelmina, could not succeed to the title, and accordingly this was passed on to Adolph of Nassau.

During the reign of Willem III, from 1849 to 1890, the minting of the stuiver was continued, or rather begun in earnest as only 100 pieces had left the presses previously. The design and size remained unchanged, the only difference being the head of the king, facing right this time.

Approximately 6,200,000 of these stuivers were minted between the years 1850 and 1887; and in later years, after they had been withdrawn from circulation in 1908, were very much in demand for the fabrication of bracelets and other trinkets. Approximately 5½ million have never been handed in! Since the last minting of this stuiver in 1887, it took until 1907 before any others were minted, and herewith we see the end of the silver stuiver for the first time since its inception in 1454.

The stuiver that saw the light in 1907 and which was only struck until 1909 was a nickel coin (75% copper—25% nickel). The obverse shows a scroll with the word "Nederland" a bit below the center of the coin. A crown is placed above, and the date below the scroll. The crown is placed between two oak branches. The reverse shows 5 cents within a wreath of two joined orange branches.

This coin has perhaps been the most unpopular coin the Netherlands ever saw. Reason for this unpopularity was mainly that, particularly at night, the coin was difficult to distinguish from a 25-cent piece and therefore often mis-used as such. To give at least a measure of its unpopularity, it must be stated that of the 14 million pieces minted, only approximately ten percent were not handed in when this stuiver was withdrawn from circulation between 1913 and 1916.

The year 1913 again proved to be a turning point in the long history of the stuiver. That year saw the introduction of a square coin with rounded corners, and of the same thickness and alloy as the previous one. Although in British India and Ceylon square coins were a common sight, the introduction of same in modern Europe must have been quite a novelty, and throughout its circulation until after World War II the coin was as popular as the round nickel stuiver was unpopular. The square stuiver was a real "savings" coin and only a few Dutch people can truthfully say that some time or another they haven't saved the coins in preference to others. Also with tourists the coin proved to be very popular and has provided many with a unique and cheap souvenir. The last regular minting of this coin took place in 1940, although J. Schulman states in one of his books that he has seen one piece of a different alloy minted in 1943, however without mintmark or mintmaster's mark.

Description of the square stuiver is as follows: on the obverse a fruit-bearing branch of an orange within a double circle. In between outer and inner circle — Koningryk der Nederlanden. Reverse: 5¢ within a row of pearls in a circular arrangement and the date in two parts left and right on a shell-like ornament.

In the meantime war clouds gathered. In 1940 the Netherlands found itself occupied by Germany, and one of the first things for the occupational powers to do, at least from a monetary point of view, was to withdraw all existing coins, which were to be replaced by inferior pieces of zinc alloy. Appropriately enough for our story, it was the stuiver which was to be replaced first. The coin act of 1901 was amended on 18 December 1941, so as to be able to lawfully mint the zinc stuiver. The nickel stuiver was officially withdrawn by a resolution of 5 March 1942, and all these coins had to be handed in before 15 March 1942.

The withdrawal of other denominations followed soon after. Perhaps it is an exaggeration to use the word "withdrawal" in this respect, as after a period of grace, and despite threats from the occupational authorities, only about two percent of the old coins were handed in. The rest simply went underground, to reappear after the liberation of the Netherlands by the allied forces.

The zinc alloy stuiver was square and of the same dimensions as the nickel one. The writer of this article, who lived in the Netherlands until 1950 and who experienced the change-over first hand, can hardly believe that retention of the square shape was a concession to the people or to the now 30 year old tradition of the square nickel stuiver. Concessions, by and large, were non-existent and the only reason the writer can find for the issuance of another square stuiver was of a more practical nature. Round stuivers would have been almost indistinguishable from the other dull zinc colored coins, whereas the square shape provided a distinct break between the two nearest coins, the 2½ and 10 cent pieces.

Herewith follows a description of the zinc stuiver. Obverse: in a square, two Saxonian horse heads under a sun. On a scroll under the square "Nederland". Reverse: 5¢ within a circle. To the left of the circle nine waves symbolical of the sea. To the right of the circle an ear of corn. The coin has no mintmaster's mark, but only carries the mark of the Utrecht mint at the foot of the ear of corn.

After the war the coins circulating in the Netherlands formed a mixture of the old type coin and of the zinc alloy coins. As one who lived in the Netherlands during the occupation, I can fully understand the feelings of Jacques Schulman, when in 1946 he exclaimed in his book: "May we now also be delivered soon from this zinc money!"

This time came soon, as in 1948 the first post-war regular coins were minted. As we are only concerned with the stuiver piece, we see that radical changes in this coin have taken place again.

First, the stuiver, for the first time since 1887, bears the head of the monarch, in this case that of Wilhelmina.

Secondly we have returned to a round stuiver; and lastly the coin is made of bronze, which has no precedence in the long history of the stuiver. Although copper stuivers

VARIETIES

The following very interesting news item appeared in the Dec. 13, 1965 issue of the Morwell Numismatic Society Newsletter, Morwell, Vic., Australia:-

It appears that the latest craze with collectors is the search for upset coins. These are becoming in demand and are readily picked up if one closely observe both the obverse and reverse. What is an upset coin?

The term is used to describe a piece in which the obverse and reverse sides do not correspond symmetrically. One side has been cast in the die at the mint at an angle different from the other side. The easiest way to see whether a coin is upset is to hold it upright between the thumb and index finger, with the reverse facing forward. Then, swivel the coin for a half turn. If the obverse is not upright, the coin is upset. A 1962 halfpenny upset at 2:30 o'clock was recently picked up in Morwell, and will be on display at our meeting.

Pennies have been found upset at practically every possible angle, and some angles are more common than others. A 1963 penny with the obverse upside down (six o'clock) is a very valuable piece.

Upset coins occur in only Australia and New Zealand, and it seems that they are caused by one of the dies working loose and moving around.

So collectors move into the field of looking for upset coins, and perhaps we can have a competition for the best one.

STORE CARDS COME FROM 23 STATES

Civil War merchants' store cards were issued in almost 400 communities in 23 states. A total of more than 8000 of these pieces is known. They circulated most extensively in New York and Ohio. In the latter state alone, 2942 merchants in 104 towns issued tokens. A complete set of New Hampshire tokens, on the other hand, consists of only one card, distributed by A. W. Gale of Concord.

Alabama is the only Confederate state in which store cards were issued during the Civil War.

Store Cards and Tokens

By CHARLES V. KAPPEN, San Jose, CSNA - 2-6

In order to attribute correctly "maverick" tokens which presently lie unidentified in the collections of several CSNA members, a combined listing is being run in Calcoin News. If other collectors have additional tokens or store cards, city of issue unknown, but which they believe to be of California, they may send descriptions of them to the writer. Perhaps an addenda can be published in a future issue.

It is hoped that readers will recognize the name of a place of business or of a merchant in the following list as belonging to a particular city, and will then communicate such information to Charles V. Kappen, 2201 Peachtree Lane, San Jose, Calif. 95128, who is cataloguing California tokens.

Some readers did attribute tokens appearing in the first portion of the list (Calcoin News, Fall 1967, pp. 126-128), and as a result some 10 to 12 tokens no longer are "maverick". For this we are most appreciative.

THE STUIVER

have been minted for the colonies and the Dutch East India Company (V.O.C.), these fall outside the scope of this article.

The stuiver of Wilhelmina was minted in 1948 only, the year of her jubilee and of her abdication after having been on the throne since 1890. She was officially crowned on her 18th birthday, on 31 August 1898.

Returning to the coin itself, it shows the head of Wilhelmina on the obverse, facing left, around which appear the words: Wilhelmina Koningin der Nederlanden. The reverse shows: 5 cent, above with a fruit bearing orange branch, its lower part reaching through the top part of the figure 5. The date in two parts at the left and right of the 5, with the mint mark and mintmaster's mark at the left and right of the word "cent" at the foot of the coin.

The next minting of the stuiver took place in 1950, and apart from the head of Juliana, facing right, the coin is of the same design as the 1948 issue. The inscription around the head reads: Juliana Koningin der Nederlanden.

Herewith we have come to the end of a long period during which we have followed our popular stuiver through times of unrest, peace and war, from its inception in the County of Holland in 1454 until its present position in the coinage of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

It cannot be denied that the buying power during its five century existence has considerably diminished. Nevertheless it will always remain a popular coin in the Netherlands and with the many coin collectors throughout the world.

UCLA ACQUIRES GANS LIBRARY

By CHARLES M. JOHNSON, Long Beach, CSNA - 9-1

One of the largest, privately owned numismatic libraries in the United States was acquired in October 1967 by the University of California at Los Angeles. The library contained more than 10,000 titles and covered for all practical purposes the complete range of classical, medieval and modern numismatic literature with exception of the United States and Canada. In addition it is virtually complete in works on medallic art from the renaissance to modern times.

This library represents more than fifty years of continuous acquisitions and dedicated work by Edward Gans of Berkeley, Calif., who is widely known in the numismatic world as a student and professional numismatist. He started the library while in Europe, before moving to this country more than thirty years ago, and continued thereafter to systematically add the writing of great numismatic scholars of the past and present.

Recently he decided to find a suitable home for this library, so it would not be broken up and sold in the event of his death. At that time the American Numismatic Association became interested in obtaining the library to add to its large circulating library (see the "Numismatist", December 1965, page 1833) but was unable to raise the necessary funds. Joel Malter, a teacher and professional numismatist in the Los Angeles area, who was doing post-graduate work at UCLA, interested the university and its resulting eventual acquisition for incorporation into the UCLA research library.

Many rare and scarce titles, some of which are now virtually unobtainable, are to be found in the Gans' library. To name a few: Newell, Head, Hill, Imhoof-Blumer, Svoronos, Heiss; all catalogs by Dr. Hirsch (with Naville & Ars Classica) including Possie catalog with original printed price list; Numismatic Chronicle since 1870; the rare Dreyfus catalog on medals and plaquettes (the collection is now in the National Gallery in Washington); complete Jameson catalog; and many others.

In talking with Edward Gans he said: "My foremost hope for the future of the library is that it will not be divided, but will remain an entity within the UCLA research library, so the material will be available in one place for inquiring scholars and researchers; that the necessary acquisitions will be made to keep the library current; that the big gap of United States and Canadian material will be filled; that eventually a collection of coins and paper money will be developed to go with the library and that a group of friends of numismatics will form a West Coast Numismatic Society of UCLA to perpetuate this development."

Norman Dudley, head of the UCLA library acquisition department, reports that work has commenced on cataloguing and incorporating the library into the university research library. About six months will be required for this work.

Dudley further reports: "Every effort will be made to keep the numismatic library current by adding periodicals, new titles and endeavoring to acquire material in the United States and Canadian areas which is now missing. Eventually, it is hoped that the library will be supplemented by coin and paper money collections. To this end, gifts of numismatic literature and collections, or funds for their purchase, are welcomed by UCLA."

"Though the UCLA library is primarily for academic use," he added, "the newly acquired library, as well as the whole university research library, is available at all times for public use."

An evaluation of this development from the numismatic standpoint means that California and the West Coast now has a fine numismatic library, equal to those on the East Coast in the area of classical, medieval and modern numismatic literature, and the basis for developing one of the world's significant numismatic libraries. No longer will it be necessary for scholars, teachers, researchers and numismatists in California and the West to make a long and expensive trip to the East Coast, the only place where such material has previously been available for the pursuit of their activities. For Southern Californians it will be a welcome and significant development to have this numismatic cultural heritage so close at hand. Aside from the value to numismatics, the other closely associated scholarly disciplines of archeology, art, metallurgy, money and finance, and history will benefit extensively from the availability of this treasure of numismatic literature with its research, teaching and study opportunities.

FINNISH 1967 COMMEMORATIVE

On Dec. 6, 1917, Finland declared itself an independent state in the turmoil of World War I and the October Revolution in Russia. Finland had previously been an autonomous grand duchy of the Russian Empire since 1809. During this period of autonomy Finland had its own parliament; and women had a vote, making Finland the first country in Europe to enfranchise women.

The year 1967 was declared a jubilee year of Finnish work, culture and democratic society. To commemorate it, 1,000,000 silver coins, face value 10 Finnmarks, have been minted. The coin contains 900 per mille of silver, the rest being copper. It has a diameter of 35 mm, and weighs 24 gr.

The obverse of the coin depicts five flying ospreys (Pandion haliaetus), which symbolize freedom and independence. This fine bird is very common on Finland's thousand of lakes. On the reverse is a relief illustrating the continuous work of construction. The text of the lettered edge reads: "Itsenainen Suomi 50 Finland Sjalvstandigt 50" (Independent Finland 50).

This 10 markkaa coin is the third Finnish commemorative ever struck. The earlier two, both silver, were: the 500 old markkaa Olympic coin issued in 1952, and the 1000 old markkaa issued in 1960 owing to Finland having received its own monetary unit markka and penni in 1860.

This commemorative 10 markkaa is priced at $3.50. Check or money order should be made out to the First National City Bank, and sent to the Assistant Cashier, 399 Park Ave., New York, N.Y. 10022.

"THIRTEEN" — If you are superstitious about the number "13" have a look at the back of a dollar bill which has been printed since 1935. The incomplete pyramid has 13 steps, the American bald eagle holds an olive branch with 13 leaves and 13 berries in one claw and in the other 13 arrows.

But, before you toss this bill away, remember that these "13's" commemorate our 13 original colonies, and that's a very lucky number for millions of Americans today.

Who's Who In California Numismatics

FRANK ROZA, JR.

By Erma Roza

Frank Roza, Jr., was born in San Luis Obispo, Feb. 9, 1934. He attended various schools in California, graduating from Lodi High School.

As long as I have known him, he has been collecting. He did not collect coins at first, but did have boxes of numerous items that were of sentimental value — like a key to his very own first car; birthday cards to him from members of his family; and about five or six hundred ribbons (mostly first and grand champion awards) which he had won at the county and state fairs for his fine cattle and fat lambs. These he had raised on his father's dairy in his spare time between his daily chores. While in High School he won the "State Farmer" award, two only being issued at a time to promising future farmers.

Since he was old enough to join the 4-H and Future Farmers of America, Frank has been active in clubs. He has always been one of the hardest working members of any coin club he joined. He has held the position of secretary, treasurer, vice-president and president of many local clubs in the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valley areas, and started a few of his own. He is still active in many of the local clubs, and is on the board of directors of CSNA.

When Frank first started collecting coins you rarely saw him without the current coin paper or Red Book in his hand. He read everything he got his hands on that would help him gain the knowledge he felt was necessary to have to become a true numismatist. And, when the dinner was completely ruined (yes, we had become married in April 1954) and Frank hadn't shown up, a phone call to the local coin shop would find him there, searching for more and more knowledge.

His interest in collecting coins grew. He talked and slept coins, and sometimes I wished I could have fed him coins. You guessed it — I too had been bitten by that awful coin bug, and I began to understand.

Frank first worked as a parts manager in a car dealership for about five years. After he became interested in coins he soon found that he didn't have time to go to work any more. So in 1961 we moved to Palo Alto, and he opened up his own coin shop there. Of course the working hours in his new occupation as a professional coin dealer were far better than in his previous job. He was only putting in eighteen to twenty hours a day now — compared to eight hours previously. But he enjoyed every hour spent with his beloved coins.

He still finds time to auction coins. Don't tell him I said so, but he is one of the best auctioneers I have had the pleasure of listening to. Let me give you fair warning — if you are in the auction room when Frank is the auctioneer, don't scratch your head or you may find that you have entered a bid and are the proud owner of a coin you already have.

Frank is known for his devoted interest in the U.S. twenty cent pieces, which he has studied snce he began collecting. He is now an authority on this subject. However, he won't admit to being an expert although I feel that he is as close to it as anyone can be.

With all the activies of clubs, coin shows, auctions and running his own successful business, Frank still has time to be a fine husband and the proud father of two boys and one girl, ages 12, 11 and 6.

Now located in Carson City, Nevada, where he is operating his coin business, Frank is to be found much of the time in California.

If you ever go to a coin show and want to find Frank, look for a crowd of people talking about coins. You'll find him in the middle, gathering tidbits of information to add to his already vast knowledge of coins.

After reading the above, you may think that I am slightly prejudiced in his favor. Perhaps I am. I am proud to be his wife.

FBI REQUESTS ASSISTANCE

DU PONT ROBBERY

Shortly after midnight, Oct. 5, 1967, five armed, masked men entered the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Willis du Pont, Miami, Fla., and at gunpoint took approximately $4,000 in cash, $1,000 in loose silver dollars, approximately $50,000 in jewelry (being 30 pieces of women's jewelry, consisting of rings, earrings and bracelets, and 15 pieces of men's jewelry, consisting of watches, studs and cufflinks) and an extensive coin collection maintained in a concealed safe.

This coin collection consisted of:

(1) A portion of the Mikhailovitch Collection of Russian coins and medals, valued by du Pont at about $1,000,000.

(2) An almost complete collection of U.S. regular issues, silver and gold, of commemorative gold, and of territorial gold, valued by du Pont at approximately $500,000.

(3) A collection of rare, scarce and common foreign coins of approximately 138 different countries, cities and municipalities, valued by du Pont at approximately $50,000.

(4) A small collection of Chinese silver, copper and brass coins of undetermined value.

Space does not permit us of printing the complete list of stolen coins, as given to us by the FBI. However, any of our readers, particularly dealers, may receive a copy of same by writing to your editor.

Anyone having any knowledge which would assist the FBI in their search for these robbers, or as to whereabouts of any of these stolen coins, are requested to contact his nearest FBI office.

A Panama Pacific Gold Medal

By LES LODGE, Oakland, CSNA 5-I

No doubt many of our CSNA members read in the August 1967 issue of "The Numismatist" the very interesting article by Dr. Alexis O. Fernandez entitled "A New Discovery — A Panama Pacific Gold Medal". (This having reference to the Panama Pacific International Exposition held in San Francisco in 1915.)

For the benefit of those who did not read this article, I quote a few paragraphs from it:

"It was my good fortune to come across a Cuban exile who had recently left his homeland. He had been a jeweler in Havana and, especially during his last months in Cuba, had come across quite a few gold coins whose owners wanted melted and sold as gold. This he did quite often, but when presented with the medal referred to here, he could not bring himself to destroy such a beautiful piece. Instead, he kept it and smuggled it out of the country.

"The medal is of gold, but I do not know the fineness. It measures 48 mm in diameter and is in extremely high relief, being 4.5 mm thick at its center, where the eagle's breast is the medal's boldest point. Its weight is 41.5 grams.

"What seems to make this medal unique is the inscription on the reverse:

Major General
Mario G. Menocal
President of the Republic of Cuba

"As soon as I obtained the medal, I tried to find out its history, who made the presentation and why, as well as other points of interest such as mintage. Whether the medal could be purchased during the Exposition at San Francisco, or if it was only a presentation piece. To date, all my efforts have proven fruitless, although I have shown this piece to a prominent West Coast dealer and have been in correspondence with a member of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society.

"Nobody has come up with an answer to any of the many questions which have arisen! I even wrote to a son of President Menocal, who now lives in the United States. He answered: "I remember that in the year 1915 there was an exposition in San Francisco, California, and if I had the personal papers which belonged to my father and which I kept for so many years, I might possibly have been able to give you details about the same. I believe that the Cuban delegation sent to that exposition by the government was headed by General Enrique Lynaz del Castillo." In short, no really definite information regarding this beautiful gold piece has been uncovered."

Under date of Jan. 26, 1966, I received a letter from Dr. Fernandez inquiring as to details of this medal. I answered him, advising that in the 1915 Collection of the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society there was no reference to any such medal as he described, and asked for a photo of same. This was forwarded to me later in the year. The PCNS 1915 collection does have reference to the Cuban Pavilion at the Exposition.

The word "Shreves" appears on the reverse of this medal in small letters. An inquiry with that firm in San Francisco, by Erich Werling, was without any good results, as they have no records going back that far nor any employes still with them who might have remembered this medal. Inquiry with the San Francisco Examiner and the San Francisco Chronicle revealed nothing as to the medal, nor as to whether or not President Menocal had actually been in San Francisco during the exposition. Likewise the California Historical Society was unable to shed any light on the subject.

Due to my illness last year, and the press of other matters, I was not able to pursue this matter further. In September 1967 a letter was received from Dr. Fernandez advising that in response to his article in "The Numismatist" he received one reply only, this from a well-known numismatist in Detroit. This gentleman had conducted a search for information about the medal, but without any results. He did, however, offer to purchase the medal (which offer I presume was refused).

I recently turned over my file on this subject to my sister, Dr. Elizabeth L. Rees, CSNA no. 1170, who spent considerable time in the Bancroft Library at the University of California in Berkeley. The results of her research are:

Mario G. Menocal was born in Matanzas, Cuba, in 1866. He received his engineering degree from Cornell University, New York; took part in many activities in the war against Spain and in the occupation of Cuba by the USA. He was elected president of Cuba in 1912, assuming office in May 1913, and was re-elected in 1916, continuing in that office until May 1921. He is described as being "a handsome man with long face and full beard, hair parted in middle".

General Menocal was very friendly to the United States, and was most emphatic that Cuba be well represented at the PPIE in San Francisco in 1915 (which indeed it was). He cooperated closely with the United States during World War I, and in April 1917 Cuba declared war against Germany.

The Cuban site dedication at the PPIE was held in San Francisco, Sept. 25, 1913, with a delegation from Cuba present. However, there is no evidence that President Menocal was present—nor is there any mention of any medals having been given out to anyone at that time. An interesting side-light on this luncheon and dedication ceremony is that Major Rowan, the man who "carried the message to Garcia", was present.

With reference to the statement by President Menocal's son that the Cuban delegation to the Exposition was headed by General Enrique Lynaz del Castillo, I found a verification of this; also that during the absence of Castillo (presumably from San Francisco) that General Jose Lara Mirst was acting in charge.

But, nowhere could I find any reference to this particular medal nor to any similar ones. Therefore I am unable to advise when, how and why it was issued.

Perhaps some of our readers may be able to shed some more light on this most intriguing subject. If so, please write me as to what knowledge you have and I will relay it on to Dr. Fernandez.

North of the Tehachapis

By JERRY KROEGER

Northern California Numismatic Association completed its 1967 convention last September, under the able guidance of President and General Chairman Rudy Gjurovich. Rudy's hard working staff registered between 1500 and 2000 people. Lillian Hooker, Secretary, says "The people must have spent money because the dealers were happy, all 68 of them. Some of our out of town dealers were Harry J. Forman, Al Warren, Charles V. Jones, Don Jurgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael, Jim Gates, Frank Roza, Henry Cutting, Hollinbeck-Kagin, Norman Shultz, plus many more."

The convention was sparked by 41 competitive exhibits. Best of Show went to Monty Finefrock; Second Best of Show, Philip Chew. First awards to Dr. C. W. Aby, Ray Erkson, William Grant, Guy Railsback, Bruno Rzepka, A. A. Shimonauff and Edward Sins. The President's Trophy went to the Discoverer Coin Club.

The President's Trophy was founded in February 1966 by Col. Everett K. Higgins as an award for the best exhibit by an NCNA member club in good standing. The trophy is retained by the winning club for one year, and is returned to NCNA at the next convention. Should a club win for three consecutive years, the trophy is permanently awarded to that club.

Austen D. Warburton was the feature speaker at the forum, with an excellent talk on Indian money.

Featured with the exhibits and sharing the same case together was an 1804 Silver Dollar, an 1894-S Dime, and an 1885 Trade Dollar. A lot of loot for such a small space!

Don't forget the 1968 Convention of NCNA has been moved up to August 15-18, 1968.

International Numismatic Society is a newly formed club of foreign collectors of the world and was organized by Milton Strauch in July 1967.

The format is a few minutes of business matters, then having each one attending give a short talk on the coins that he or she brought for the evening. Milton found that the conference type of meeting, in which all can join, creates interest in the club as well as in fellow members.

The club meets at the Daly City War Memorial Building, on the fourth Friday of each month.

Roy Hill, president of the Liberty Numismatic Society, sent a card to your North of the Tehachapis editor announcing some of the programs for July, August and September, such as Uncurrent Coins; Dog Coins for Dog Days; and Spanish coins, collecting in Spain; the latter by James A. Noel, Jr.

The club meets on the fourth Thursday of each month at 850 Burlingame avenue, Burlingame.

PEOPLE AND PLACES DEPT.

Charles Colver received a card from Charles Kappen, who said that he ran into Dan Harley at a Howard Johnson Restaurant in Madison, Wisconsin. Those Howard Johnson Restaurants are all over the place and so are Californians.

Lake Tahoe Coin Club held its ninth annual coin festival at Harvey's Resort Hotel Casino, Stateline, South Tahoe. Darryl Gunther, president and festival chairman, reported "This was the best yet."

Door prizes included BU Carson City silver dollars and uncirculated Nevada gaming tokens.

Exhibit winners were: A. A. Shimonauff, Adele Sellers, Jack Maderos and John Holthe.

The regular club meeting has been changed to the Tahoe Savings and Loan Association, Highway 50 at Takela, Bijou, on the first Monday of each month.

San Francisco Coin Club enjoyed Inspector S. G. Yasinsitsky of the SFPD at the September meeting. Yasinsitsky pointed out the many ways in which thefts occur and gave a few hints on what to do as well as what not to do.

John Sears gave an illustrated talk on the "Art of Exhibiting." His talk was aimed at creating a desire of members to make exhibits for the two big events of prime interest to the club. Its own fifth annual coin fair, April 7, 1968 and CSNA, May 2-5, 1968.

Pacific Coast Numismatic Society had the pleasure of having Robert G. McArthur as guest speaker for the evening at the August meeting. "Mac" gave an interesting talk on his "Brilliant Beat-up Collection" which was highlighted with an exhibit of worn-out coins, each with a history, including the name of the donor. We learned how an interesting story can enhance a worn-out coin.

Dr. Sidney Levin spoke at the September meeting on Ancient Jewish Coins. He supplemented his talk with colored slides, showing ancient Jewish history, illustrated by Jewish, Roman, and Greek coins. Dr. Levin's exhibit included many of the coins shown, including a Hebrew shekel.

Marin Coin Club had the pleasure of hearing Ovid McHorse speak on grading of coins, a subject which your North of the Tehachapis editor says "will fill a long winter's night." In October Steven Album spoke on California Trade Tokens.

Marin Coin Club meets on the third Wednesday of each month at Brown's Hall, San Rafael.

San Francisco Bay Area Branch of the Ancient Coin Club of America meets on the second Saturday of each month from 2 to 4:30 p.m. at the American Savings and Loan Association, 19th and Noriega St., San Francisco.

Don Crossman, president of the East Bay Coin Club, introduced R. G. McArthur at the October meeting. "Mac" gave a most interesting talk on Trade Dollars of the World and showed various coins that were issued as or became Trade Dollars.

EBCC held its annual Coinival on November 12 at the Oakland YMCA. No report has been received by your editor up to press time, but rumors have it that it was successful and a good time was had by all who attended.

"The Fresno Numismatist" is a monthly publication of the Fresno Numismatic Society and the Central California Coin Club. Its Editor, Mabel Jorgensen and Asst. Editor Louis Caporale do a marvelous job.

Dennis Olswang was the featured speaker at FNS in October. His account of the history of Canadian coinage, along with the fine exhibits provided by the other members was fascinating and educational.

Fresno Numismatic Society meets the second Tuesday and fourth Friday at the Progressive Home Club in Fresno, and the Central California Coin Club meets the second and fourth Sundays at the Fresno Realty Board Building.

Peninsula Coin Club heard Al Shimonauff give a talk entitled "Matthew Boulton and the Soho Mint." In August the club listened to Ray Erkson speak on Coins of Mexico and Ed. Sins spoke on "The US Sandwich Coinage."

The club meets at the Palo Alto Recreation Center on the fourth Monday of each month.

Serving the Concord Community is the "Diablo Die-Break," a monthly news letter from the Diablo Numismatic Society with Manny Esidro as Editor.

For the June meeting George Godderis spoke on the coins of Canada and illustrated with coins from his collection. In August Bob McGarrigle was guest speaker on Radio Station KWUN, Concord. The interview consisted of numismatic questions which Bob handled easily.

DNS held its fifth annual Coin Fair in October. Fourteen bourse dealers enjoyed their profits and exhibitors won in the following catagories: Best of Show, Guy Railsback; first place awards to Mark Rush, M. Smith and Guy Railsback.

Re: Best of Show—Railsback's explanation of the Coat of Arms varieties found on the reverse of these Spanish silver cobs goes beyond any formal published numismatic material. His comprehensive study was especially well documented, easy to follow with reference specimens within the exhibit.

COINARAMA

Nearly 800 persons attended the tenth annual Coinarama of the San Diego Inter-Club Numismatic Council, Sept. 23-24. There were 34 bourse dealers from Arizona, California, Missouri, Nevada, Texas and Mexico.

The forum speakers were: Maurice M. Gould, nationally known speaker, writer and an avid numismatist; and Vince Bacon, knowledgable and well known local speaker.

The awards breakfast was attended by 80 persons. First place winners were: Harlan White, Modern Japanese; Ken Hedges, World Medals; Pat Gutowski, Fractional Currency; Al Baber, Lincoln Cents; Bill West, Cowries Through Cash. Senior "Best of Show" award was captured by Paul Moulton, Sr., for his Liberty Series Medals. Junior "Best of Show" was awarded to Gary Heiserman for his Nuremburg Streetcar Tokens.

COIN SHOWCASE

West Valley Coin Club held its ninth annual Coin Showcase Oct. 21-22. Just under 1000 persons registered in the two days. Exhibits were outstanding and several members withdrew their exhibits so that visiting exhibitors would not be turned away for lack of space. Even so the club had to send for additional tables the first day in order to accommodate the exhibitors.

First place winners were: Kent Johnson, U.S. Coins; Warren Overlin, Gold; Viola Johnson, Foreign Coins; Charles Eads, U.S. Currency; Charles Byers, Foreign Currency; Rudolph Pock, Ancient and Medieval; Roy E. The council had received word from many out-of-state dealers, who must travel a great distance, that if the C.O.I.N. convention were held in June as in the past they would be unable to attend.

REPORTS FROM . . .

OUR OUT-OF-STATE MEMBERS AND FRIENDS

From "North of the Border" comes the news that E. Victor Snell, editor of the Canadian Numismatic Association's monthly Journal, was recently elected president of CNA. Our congratulations to Victor, and we are sure that CNA will continue to make wonderful progress under his leadership.

The Eastern United States Director of CNA is Raymond G. Manville, editor of the New England Numismatic Association's quarterly, the NENA News. Your editor has had considerable correspondence with both Victor and Ray, and is looking forward to meeting them some day. (The Western United States Director of CNA is none other than a former out-of-stater, our own Southern California member Maurice M. Gould.

Thomas W. Becker, Assistant Director Money Museum, National Bank of Detroit, Detroit, Mich., has been invited to speak at the forum at the coming NASC convention in Los Angeles in February.

We know that our CSNA members will be glad to meet Tom when he comes to the "City of the Angels".

Following is an excerpt from a letter to our secretary from Jack Stephens of Nova Scotia: "Also enclosed is my application for membership in the California State Numismatic Association, and I am most keenly interested in becoming a member."

We are certainly proud to now have a person in Nova Scotia on our membership rolls. CSNA is constantly growing, not only in California but in the United States and Canada. We hope Jack finds the advantage of membership in CSNA all he hopes it to be and perhaps from time to time he can contribute something to Calcoin News.

At the recent convention in Disneyland your editor was pleased to meet some of his friends: Mrs. Barbara Rader and Dan Brown of Denver; Lee Hewitt of Chicago; Richard S. Yeoman of Racine, Wisc. — to mention but a few. Also to meet for the first time: Dick Hyde of Denver; Harry Lessin of Norwalk, Conn., and Edward C. Rochette of Colorado Springs.

The convention was indeed a gathering of the numismatic elite from all over North America.

From Denver, Colo., comes advice that our member there, Mrs. Barbara A. Rader, was the recipient of the Jefferson County Coin Club's annual trophy—the Thomas Jefferson award. This award is given to the individual who is judged as having contributed the most to numismatics in the Rocky Mountain area during the past year.

Congratulations, Barbara. It could not have happened to a nicer person.

THE CHAIRMAN'S BEATITUDES

Blessed are those who attend meetings regularly and on time, and who remind or invite others to come.

Blessed are those who speak up at meetings, to bring out the points and contribute their own experience.

Blessed are the brief, because they win the good will of the others.

Blessed are those whose participation is good - humored, for they brighten up the meeting and prevent disruption, despite any differences in opinion.

Blessed are those with perspective, who acknowledge to themselves, if not to those present, that conditions of others may be different and hence their points of view.

Blessed are those who can face opposition without taking offense or feeling a personal criticism where none was intended.

Blessed are those who volunteer willingly, for they gain in influence and position with each added service.

Blessed are those who, having accepted a responsibility, discharge it promptly and give a good accounting of their performance.

Blessed are those who voice appreciation in front of their fellow members, so that those who have earned approval may enjoy it in good season and feel rewarded.

Disneyland Convention

By PEGGY BORGOLTE

"Something For Everyone" could easily have been the theme of the 41st semi-annual convention held at Disneyland Hotel, Anaheim, Nov. 2-5, located across the street from the world famous Disneyland where youngsters, age one to one hundred, spend many happy hours.

With a paid registration of 2,394, plus 97 dealers and an uncounted number of children under twelve years of age, it could only be successful in every way.

One's eye was caught by a large poster on a stand as he entered the bourse room. The poster was a layout of the bourse room, listing each dealer and his location. The interesting part was that the dealers' names listed were in three colors: one color for out-of-state dealers, another for dealers from California, and the third for dealers from other countries. Of the 97 dealers present 33 were from 19 other states, 1 from Mexico, 3 from Canada and 60 from various towns and cities in California. Was this a state — a national — or an international convention?

Thursday, Nov. 2, at 10:00 A.M. the convention officially opened, and Sunday, Nov. 5, at 5:00 P.M. closed. One could only say it was one of the most active and well attended conventions in years. The registration area was a bee hive of activity during the entire convention; and the exhibit room was busy starting with the hopefuls placing their favorite collections on display, each one hoping to capture an award (award winners and exhibitors listed elsewhere), and visitors viewing these displays.

Evalene Pulati hosted the ladies luncheon on Thursday, where much interest was shown in the fashion show not only by the ladies but by the gentlemen seated close by. Missed by those attending was Anna Merle Panosh, who was aboard the Queen Mary on her final voyage headed for Long Beach.

Friday at 1:00 P.M. the Executive Board meeting took place; and at 1:30 P.M. the Airport Coach Bus departed for a trip to the Newport Balboa Savings and Loan Association to view the outstanding numismatic display valued at $100,000.00 Abe Kosoff was host. Guidance in acquiring and assembling the collection was done by Abe Kosoff of Encino, and Kenneth and Gene Nichols of Costa Mesa.

On Saturday morning was held the general business meeting.

The educational forums were so well attended that those arriving late found standing room only. "Pillars of Hercules and Plus Ultra of Spain", illustrated with slides, was the topic of John Fies of San Carlos, (more information on this elsewhere). S. Everett Phillips of Fresno spoke on the little known subject, "Russian Beard Tax Tokens".

The California Exonumist Society forum speaker, on Saturday, was Ken E. Smith of Redondo Beach, who spoke on "Transportation Tokens of the World".

Photography by Gordon Z. Greene

The final forum, sponsored by the Organization of International Numismatists on Saturday afternoon, presented Richard Yeoman of Racine, Wisc., Don Sherer of Phoenix, Ariz., and Ralph Mitchell of Fullerton, California. Yeoman spoke about the publishing of the Red Book, telling how prices in it are arrived at and pointing out that these are not the staff or publishers opinions. Sherer told what the ANA is proposing for the distribution of the silver dollars the government is holding. Mitchell gave the history of Swedish Plate Money and had several pieces frim his collection on display.

The large attendance at these forums points to the fact that collectors are searching for information and knowledge.

A four session auction, conducted by John E. Cobb of Mountain View was well attended, with many of the coins bringing exceptionally high prices. Cobb stated he was well pleased with the results.

Saturday night was, as always, one of the major highlights of the convention. Warren Bunge, as master of ceremonies, was outstanding. Maurice Gould presented the awards for the winning exhibits.

Rudy Gjurovich, CSNA's sergeant-at-arms, with his coat of coins and medals that some time ago weighed 28 pounds, was present and surrounded by visitors and guests showing much interest in the coat. The reports are that he has added more coins and medals since the last reported weight.

Call them the "we attend 'em all" or "The Tireless Three" — makes no difference. They are always present — Mattie Knickerbocker, Irving Knickerbocker and Roy Hill are whom we are talking about, just in the event someone may not know. This convention was no different in that respect for they were there, having now attended all 41 conventions.

THE PILLARS OF HERCULES and PLUS ULTRA OF SPAIN

By JOHN FIES, San Carlos, CSNA - 1149

At a numismatic forum at the California State Numismatic Association, Disneyland Hotel convention, the writer in his copyrighted talk "The Pillars of Hercules and Plus Ultra of Spain" summarized his findings resulting from seven years of spare time research of that subject.

Although those paired columns and the motto have appeared upon coins of Spain for more than 400 years, there remains some differences of opinion as to their beginnings. Seeking to resolve some of those differences, the writer has given "Calcoin News" permission to make known some of his conclusions as follows:

The device of the Pillars of Hercules and the motto Plus Ultra was invented some time between the years 1508 and 1516 A.D. for Charles, the grandson of Ferdinand V and Isabella I of Spain, and of Maximilian of Austria and Mary of Burgundy.

Said device and motto were displayed to the world-at-large, for the first time, in September of 1517, being painted upon the mainsail of the ship in which Charles sailed from Flanders to claim the vacant throne of Spain.

Mottos such as "Non Plus Ultra" or "Ne Plus Oultre", in the sense that "Nothing lie beyond" the Pillars of Hercules, meaning the Strait of Gibraltar, although an ancient concept of man, had never been used in the arms nor on the coins of any of the predecessors of Charles.

The device of the Pillars of Hercules and motto "Plus Ultra" did not just happen. There is much evidence to suggest its purposeful invention, such as: The probability that Charles would some day rule Spain; the popularity of such devices and mottos at the time; and the claim of Spain that they had opened that ancient gateway between the old and the new worlds, which had been called from antiquity the Pillars of Hercules.

NATIONAL COIN WEEK

"History Under Glass" is the theme of National Coin Week, April 21-27, 1968.

Clark A. Yowell, chairman of NCW, stated: "Few of us can remember the circulation of gold coinage. If it were not for the display of these coins at shows and coin club meetings, many of us would never know of their beauty." He also pointed out that the next generation will not know of the weight of silver dollars in their pockets, nor the ring of a silver coin.

"The pleasure of collecting coins is the sharing of their beauty with others," he added. "It is our duty as collectors to see that the public is aware of the presence of historical items and can share in their beauty."

California is without doubt the leading state numismatically. Yet in the past we have lagged behind in the celebration of National Coin Week. This year let us see many more of our local clubs, and our members, presenting displays during this period. Is there any reason why we cannot sweep the field and take all or most of the awards?

For complete details, entry blanks, etc., write Clark A. Yowell, P.O. Box 2366, Colorado Springs, Colo. 80901.
